

Welcome to the Explain Pain Revolution

Explain Pain Supercharged course Christchurch, New Zealand

With Professor Lorimer Moseley
& Associate Professor David Butler

An incredible opportunity for clinicians from all areas relating to pain! Hear David and Lorimer present together their revolutionary Explain Pain material.

David and Lorimer are trailblazers in the pain field of pain treatment. Lorimer pioneered the scientific investigation of Explaining Pain and is widely considered the most important researcher in his field. David founded the Explain Pain approach in clinical practice, has an international reputation for innovative clinical thinking, translation of basic science findings into real world applications, and being able to communicate both like no-one else.

Together they have had 60 years of experience in the pain field, across clinical, research and educational roles – this is a rare opportunity to experience their combined passion for the wonderful things that cutting edge science can teach us about pain and their unsurpassable ability to convey in a way that is accurate, entertaining and understandable.

Explain Pain provides answers to the questions ‘why do I hurt the way I do’ and ‘what can I do about it’. The knowledge is applicable to the young and the old, from back pain to hemiplegia, general aching to the complexities of phantom pain and complex regional pain syndrome. Don’t miss this unique opportunity. NOI Explain Pain courses are fun, intellectually stimulating, based on evidence, always challenging, you will come away with the most impressive therapeutic tool set ever.

Welcome to the Explain Pain Resources

Over the last 20 years a new, powerful and scientific treatment for pain has emerged. There are no pills, no gadgets, no bad side effects and most importantly, you can do it yourself.

The Explain Pain Revolution is all about understanding pain. Many things, often surprising things, can contribute to pain. Learning how to change these things is what these resources are all about.

Dr David Butler MSc EdD

Prof Lorimer Moseley PhD FACP
